Fall Ministries Follow Summer of Adventure and Community Outreach

By Carol A. Black

Fall ministries have begun at Camphor following a summer of fun and adventure in the Vacation Bible School, Adult and Family fellowship in Fairmount Park and significant outreach to the Haddington community and the City of Philadelphia.

Camphor's calendar for September and October includes Trustee Day, United Methodist Women's Day, Flea Market, Laity Sunday, Choir Day, Ushers Day, and Friends and Family Day. Plans are also being finalized for the Church Anniversary and the Community Thanksgiving Dinner and "Free Market" in November. More about those worship services and special programs are inside this issue.

Summer 2006 brought fun, excitement and challenge to Camphor. The Vacation Bible School led by Ruth Harmon and other volunteer staff from the

Message from The Pastor

(See introductory poem on page 7)

Dear Members and Friends,

Greetings to you in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ! This is the way that Paul began some of his letters to the churches. Even though it was a formal letter to a church, he felt very much a part of each of the churches and the people to whom he was writing. He was deeply concerned with their growth as the Body of Christ, women and men, old and young. While Paul started out ministering to Jewish Education Committee set up a large canvas tent in the gym and welcomed children from the congregation and community to a one-week "Adventure of the Treasure Seekers Exploring God's Promises" complete with archaeological tools, games, songs, crafts, African drums and Bible stories. See full story on page 5.

On June 24th Camphor hosted a "Conference on Violence in the Haddington Community" organized by the Camphor Council for Community Development (CCCD). Over 125 participants from the community applauded noted keynote speakers, Dr. Elijah Anderson, of the University of Pennsylvania, and Police Commissioner Sylvester Johnson for their superb insights on the issues of violence in the nation and city.

Workshops, led by experts in youth and school violence, elder law, street crime, and family violence, shared information and provided resources for community, church and individual involvement necessary to stop the violence. MEE Productions provided a PowerPoint presentation and led a discussion about the "BluePrint for Safer Philadelphia" program in a well-received plenary session.

Many representatives from the Mayor's Office of Faith-Based Initiatives and city agencies attended the conference. The UM News Service featured the conference in a national story, "Philadelphia Congregation Hosts Conference to Stop the Violence" on June 22, 2006.

The following week, Rev.

Brown and Rev. Rookard led a small group, ranging from age 4 to 82, across the Benjamin Franklin Bridge from Philadelphia to Camden in the first-ever Bridge Walk of Understanding, to raise awareness of the need to depend on each other to navigate some of society's most pressing problems like racism.

On August 8th, Geri-PERK sponsored a Health Fair for Camphor members and Camphor-Brooks seniors in the gym. A cardiologist, podiatrist, optometrist, hearing specialist and medical supplier were on hand for exams and screenings.

Everyone could play ball and games or just sit, relax and enjoy sumptuous food under the trees at the Church Picnic hosted by Adult and Family Ministries on August 19th in Fairmount Park. Deborah Terrell and the committee fixed a perfect barbeque and members brought salads and desserts. Kyn-dal Goldsberry brought large tubs of water ice that helped everyone stay cool.

men, he eventually ministered to and envisioned God's kingdom with men and women, Jew and Gentile, old and young. He began to see that we as the Body of Christ need each other to be whole.

With this in mind, I want you to know that I am keeping each of you both in mind and in heart. Part of what it means to be your pastor is to know and to understand you as well as to help you grow as a disciple of Christ. The only way that we can get back to Eden is to practice justice, peace, and solidarity with each other.

Treasure Seekers Discover God's Promises and More

By Ruth Harmon

Camphor became an archeological dig site, set up by Mr. Clifton Officer and Mr. Eric Butler for 15 children and teens who attended the Treasure Seekers Vacation Bible School held June 25-31, 2006.

Each day, the Treasure Seekers strapped on their tool belts, complete with flashlights, safety goggles, bug observer kits and tweezers. Then, they gathered in the gym to share, sing, move and praise God before being divided into two groups to rotate to four classes-Art, Bible Stories, Music, and Recreation.

Each day in each class, children learned about one of God's promises. Before they went to class or during the morning, each child had the chance to become an Archeologist and go digging at The BIG DIG, archeological dig site, for God's treasures and other things commonly found in the sand or near water. Each day using digging tools, they found "hidden treasure"- a heart, a cross, a gem, a magnifying glass or a compass that stood for one of five promises of God.

Every day there was a surprise in the sand! The first day, they found creepy crawlers and snakes. The next day they found shells and rocks. By midweek, they found "diamonds" and "sapphires". By the end of the week, they found glowing frogs and crabs that tripled in size when put in water overnight. Nearly everyday, they found gold coins with Bible verses inscribed on them! All of these objects were used to point them to the real treasure...God's Promises:

God Love You!
 God Knows You!
 God Treasures You!
 God Forgive You!
 God Is With You!

In Art class with Mrs. Elaine Brown, they decorated treasure chests and made African drums with special materials brought in by Mrs. Bettie Payton and Mrs.

Message From Flower Committee

The Camphor Flower Club would like to take this opportunity to say "thank you" for your support during the year.

We have two small fundraisers each year.

The first one is the Easter Lilies and the second one is the Poinsettias at Christmas. Proceeds from our fundraisers help us to keep the altar beautiful every Sunday. The flowers on the altar can be taken by a Flower Club member or church member to a sick or shut-in after the morning worship service.

In addition to our fundraising projects, we ask and encourage anyone to place flowers on the altar in memory or in honor of a loved one. Please make arrangements with any member of the Flower Club or see the Church Secretary. The cost for two plants is approximately $30. You may take the flowers after morning service.

We thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Memories Of Katrina

By Keith Harris

As America marked the one-year anniversary of Hurricane Katrina, I could not help but reflect upon my memories of the tragedy. As an employee of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor - Unemployment Compensation, I was granted an opportunity to become directly involved with the Katrina disaster relief effort.

Along with others, I went to Jackson, Mississippi, to provide assistance in the unemployment compensation office there. Most of the residents we encountered had been employed prior to the disaster and needed help arranging for unemployment compensation benefits.

Many confided stories of survival that still strike an emotional chord. All had strong and unwavering faith in Our Creator. I was humbled by the strength of their convictions. Even though I shook many hands and gave many hugs, it is the faith and strength of God's people in time of despair that will be the fondest memory I take with me.

I and my co-workers were also involved with "Operation Brotherly Love," a combined effort of various government agencies to provide services for displaced citizens of New Orleans in Philadelphia. We operated out of the Wanamaker School (11th and C.B. Moore Avenue.), and were there to greet the first of many arrivals to our city from the affected areas. It felt surreal to have seen the faces on television and now I was actually sitting across from them. This made the impact upon me even greater. As I grew to know a lot of these folks by name, I was struck by their friendliness, gratitude and warmth, but I was also seeing their desperation, their sense of loss and sadness.

See "In the Spotlight" on page 16 for more information about Mr. Keith Harris.

Congratulations, Ladies of Camphor!

On Saturday, November 4, Ms. Jeanne Myers will be honored by the Church Ushers Association of Philadelphia at its Annual Awards Banquet for her outstanding ministry as church usher. The banquet will be held at Shiloh Apostolic Temple, 1500-34 W. Master Street, Philadelphia at 1 p.m.

Miss Celine Boone, a second grade student at Milton Hershey School, is the first student in school history to receive both the Milton Hershey and Katherine Hershey awards for best written and best illustrated book. Celine is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jordan, Sr.

Mrs. Brenda Cozart Harris won first place in Camphor's Directory Cover Design competition by submitting an original design that best encapsulated Camphor church. Her art work will appear on the cover of the new Church Directory and she will receive a cash prize of $100 donated by BrownPartners

Vacation Bible School and Pastor's Message

Vacation Bible School

Edythe Lawrence, who served as Assistant Teachers. In Mrs. Lewisene Jordan's Bible Stories class, they listened to Bible stories, memorized Bible verses, learned God's promises and acted in skits and plays. In Mr. Paul Jordan's recreation class, they learned about God's promises through games and making clothes and hats out of newspaper. In Mrs. Brenda Cozart-Harris' music class, they learned songs about God and Archeology.

On Wednesday, Master Drummer Mr. Eddie Rosado taught the children about a variety of African drums, specifically the Djembe (walking) drum and the Congo drum. They learned what the drums were made of, but best of all, they learned how to play each one. Each child was thrilled to have his own drum to play. Even our hard working teens, who served as able guides and assistants, sat down and learned to play those drums.

Everyone was attentive and focused. Each day, Mrs. Deborah Spraggins brought and prepared a healthy snack with beverage for everyone. Lauren Brown, Candace Brown, and Chelsey Eggerson, our Teen Assistants, offered a mealtime prayer each day. Mrs. Charlotte Womack, Teacher Assistant in Art classes, also assisted at snack time.

On Friday, our final day, parents, neighbors and friends were invited to our closing program, which began with an African praise chant to God with drums, by "Mr. Eddie," Master Drummer. Every person who volunteered was given a certificate and a love gift. Parents were also given certificates to thank them for Christian Parenting. Ms. Ruth Harmon, Treasure Seekers Coordinator, was surprised by the staff with two dozen red roses!

At the end of the program each child and parent chose an educational gift to further learning in science. They also took home their packed, personalized tool belts. All of the children and their parents expressed their wish that Vacation Bible School could be extended another week or two, and that it would return next year. Even our Teen Assistants enjoyed it and gave it their stamp of approval...Praise the Lord! We are prayerful and hopeful that we can use our summer success to build on in our Sunday School and other youth programs.

better witness for our visitors and neighbors.

This year we will be starting a Wednesday Bible Study, reactivating the Adult Fellowship Group, re-sourcing Young Adults, engaging adults and youth in Praise Dance, developing our Youth Choir, planning some mission trips, and representing our block with activities. As Paul wrote to the people of each church as one body, I encourage you to think of yourselves as a body as well. While there may be some things that you cannot do alone, there are many things that we can do with God and each other.

I am looking forward to embodying justice, peace, and solidarity with one another in our church and in our community.

May God bless us as we work together. As always, my presence and prayers are with you.

Rev. Laurie Ann Rookard

*And then all that has divided us will merge
And then compassion will be wedded to power
And then softness will come to a world
That is harsh and unkind
And the both men and women will be gentle
And then both women and men will be strong
And then no person
Will be subject to another's will
And then all will be rich and free and varied
And then the greed of some
Will give way to the needs of many
And then all will share equally
In the earth's abundance...
And then everywhere
Will be called Eden once again.

MYF Kicks Off a New Year

By Sharon Brown

Camphor's Methodist Youth Fellowship is already planning big things for their new year. With the help of Kyndal Goldsberry and Rev. David Brown, they are meeting every other week to plan activities for themselves other kids and service projects to help others.

Their first project is a Halloween Party for children in kindergarten through fifth grade scheduled for Saturday, October 28 from 1:00 to 3:00 PM. Adults are asked to attend the party with their children where they can enjoy food, candy, games and prizes. "We wanted to offer kids some Halloween fun in a safe environment," says Kyndal. The cost per child is $2.00.

For more information on the Halloween Party contact Kyndal Goldsberry at (267) 971-8195.

The MYF is also planning a "Senior Prom!" This prom is specifically for senior (age 65 or older) members of the church and community. Get ready to pull out your dancing shoes! Specific details will be announced at a later date.

We've got the POWER!

Camphor Sunday school students are experiencing a whole new program this year called PowerXpress. In addition to Bible lessons there are arts and crafts projects, science projects, music, dance, cooking and games giving everyone the chance to express themselves and learn more about having God in their life.

"We're proud of the program that's being developed for the children this year. We feel it really speaks to their needs and interests," said Sharon Brown, Sunday School Superintendent.

Students will also have the opportunity to earn "Camphor Cash" which they can spend at the Sunday School "Dollar Store" on the second and fourth Sunday of each month. Students have been rewarded with the cash for arriving early to Sunday School, bringing a friend, creativity, good behavior and other positive actions.

Breakfast is also on the menu for all students arriving early for Sunday School. Students arriving between 9:20 AM and 9:40 AM can enjoy a quick breakfast in the dining hall every week.

A Chicken Soup Review

By Candace Brown

I began reading the "Chicken Soup for the Soul" series about three years ago, starting with "Chicken Soup for the Kid's Soul." The collection of inspirational stories by kids, adults and some celebrities are all about the situations we face while growing up.

It wasn't hard to relate to most of the stories because they spoke about what kids go through as teenagers. They are true stories about school, friendship, death, falling in love, the good things and the bad. Cartoons related to the subjects are mixed in throughout the books to add humor. There are also poems to add variety.

My favorite was a story called "My Little Superman" by 14-year-old KariAnne McCaffrey about a 10-year old boy she babysat. She called him her "little Superman" because his hero was Superman and even though he was terminally ill he lived life to the fullest. He played baseball and sang in the choir. They watched movies together, baked cookies, had pillow fights and played video games. When he died she knew that she would never forget him.

I would recommend these books to kids who like short stories and are looking for ways to deal with life as a teenager. Two of the authors, Jack Canfield and Mark Victor Hansen also wrote "Chicken Soup" books for adults. There's enough "Chicken Soup" for the whole family!

UMCOR responded in new ways after 9/11

NEW YORK — Responding to the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks called for a different type of strategy, according to the Rev. Paul Dirdak, chief staff executive of the United Methodist Committee on Relief. The agency's immediate response included volunteer-staffed "listening posts," where people could share their fears and concerns, and a temporary set-up for direct aid. That assistance expanded into case management programs, counseling, emergency food aid, legal aid and advocacy for immigrants and training in disaster response. The denomination raised $20.8 million after the attacks through UMCOR's "Love in the Midst of Tragedy" offering.

N.Y. pastor proud of how church 'came through'

NEW YORK — The Rev. James K. Law knows what it is like to live in the shadow of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. The pastor of the Chinese United Methodist Church ministered to rescue workers at Ground Zero and dealt with church members suffering from trauma and temporary displacement from their apartments. He appreciated the financial assistance that allowed his church to help Chinatown residents. "Our church, the United Methodist Church, came through," Law said. "I'm so proud of it."

Outreach provides plumbing for Appalachian family

LAKE CITY, Tenn. — Even in the 21st century, indoor plumbing remains but a dream for many Americans. Kathy and Jerry Lynn Jackson live in a house built during the Great Depression. "Our toilet was non-flushable," Kathy Jackson recalls. "We had to take a 5-gallon bucket of water and flush it, and in the wintertime it was like a deep freezer." Through the Appalachia Service Project, an organization founded by a United Methodist minister, volunteers built a new bathroom and rewired the Jacksons' house.

In The Spotlight... Keith Harris

By Josephine Keyes

Keith Harris

We proudly salute Keith Harris, for his faithful service to Camphor and remarkable social witness, as reflected in a portion of his journal about his work with Hurricane Katrina victims. (See page 7.)

Keith Harris' association with Camphor Memorial began as an infant under the loving guidance of his grandparents, the late William and Matilda Harris.

Born in Philadelphia in 1953, Keith was educated in the Philadelphia public schools and local community college. He has been employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania since 1976, first as a security guard and later working his way up the ladder to become a Program Analyst/Training Manager.

Actively involved in Camphor's music program since 1971, Keith is presently a member of the Senior Choir. His love of music continues during free time in his home music studio where he creates and records original music for guitar and keyboard.

The father of two and grandfather of five is a member of a faithful family with a long tradition of service to Camphor. Father, Ramon, Sr. and brother, Ramon, Jr. sing on the Senior Choir. His aunt, Gloria and cousins, Diane, Wendi and Terrell, serve in our Sunday School.

Keith, we wish you well as you continue your life's work and serve the Lord through music and praise!
